Have Eyes Tested at Intervals

Frequently people will get spectacles which suit them, and then go on wearing them for years without having their sight tested to discover whether any change has taken place. This is wrong. All who wear glasses should have their eyes tested at intervals, even if the necessity for such be not apparent to them. As a general rule spectacles for old sight require changing about every three years, but it is desirable that the sight should be carefully tested every two years.

Mrs. L. S. Bartlett, Miss Maria Stedman and Mrs. E. E. Fisher went Wednesday to Lynn to visit several weeks.
Rev. E. J. Lewis will preach Sunday morning on "The most marvelous thing." In the evening there will be the usual gospel service.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Bigelow went yesterday to Boston to attend commencement exercises at Tufts college, from which Mrs. Bigelow graduated in the class of 1909.

Hiram and Henry Haskell will move to the Parley Starr place on Western avenue within a few days. The house which they have occupied will be taken by Wilbert Renfrew.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clark will leave tomorrow for Yonkers, N. Y., going by way of Burlington and the lake and then taking the Hudson river trip down. They will visit in Yonkers a week.

Sunday, June 19, will be observed as Children's day by the Congregational Sunday school. The children will have exercises and the pastor will give an address instead of having the usual morning service.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Andrew, who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Mann, went to Townsend Wednesday to visit Mrs. Mann's brother, C. O. Kimball, before returning to their home in North Housatonic, N. Y.

Rev. E. J. Lewis, pastor of the Congregational church, will take his vacation in July. He expects to go with his family directly after July 4 to Plymouth, Conn. They will visit there and in other places in Litchfield county through the month. Mr. Lewis will return in time to preach the first Sunday in August.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Walker have moved into their home on Greenleaf street. The house, which Mr. Walker bought some time ago of George Gibson, has been extensively repaired. While the work was in progress on the house Mr. and Mrs. Walker lived in Dummerston, Mr. Walker a native of Dummerston, who was in business many years in Farley, Iowa.

The annual meeting of the trustees of Brattleboro academy was held Wednesday evening in the home of H. F. Wealth. These officers were elected: President, Rev. E. J. Lewis; vice president, William S. Newton; secretary, H. F. Weatherhead; treasurer, Dr. C. S. Clark; executive committee, Rev. E. J. Lewis, Dr. C. S. Clark and A. Wells Stowe.

Dr. C. S. Clark received a message yesterday morning that his son, Dr. Ernest Clark of the medical mission at Sikas, Turkey, would sail on a boat which was scheduled to arrive in New York Sunday. It is expected that Dr. and Mrs. Clark will reach this village Monday. Dr. Clark went to Turkey eight years ago and this is his first visit home. He has a furlough of a year and he will spend a large part of the time here.

Herbert Bradwell, son of Nyack, N. Y., and Miss Nellie Keller Ware of 523 North Spring street, Pensacola, Florida, will be married on Thursday, June 16. Mr. Titus is the elder son of the late Martin Titus and grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Titus of Vernon. He is a cousin of Miss Heulah E. Bates of this place and is well remembered by the people as a visitor in town some years ago. Mr. Titus and bride will live in Nyack, N. Y.

BRATTLEBORO PERSONAL.

Fuller C. Smith of St. Albans, national bank examiner, was a visitor in town yesterday.
Dr. Pratt, who is convalescing after a serious illness, has gone to his farm in East Putney to recuperate, accompanied by Mrs. Pratt and a nurse.

Miss Marjorie Crosby went Wednesday to Northampton to attend commencement exercises in the Burnham school, where she was formerly a student. She will visit in Worcester and Boston before returning home.

Mrs. Frank Waite arrived last evening from Spokane, Wash. She will go to Wardsboro to visit Mr. Waite's parents, but will return to town for an extended stay with friends. Mr. Waite will join her here in August.

Walter S. Pratt, driving his black gelding, Lynn R., won the class C race for pacers in the meeting of the Springfield, Mass., driving club Saturday, finishing first in each of the three heats. The time was 1:24, 1:15, 1:15.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Reid of Hartford, Conn., formerly of Brattleboro, were victims of an automobile accident in Berlin, Conn., Tuesday night. They were returning from the hill climbing contest in New Haven in a powerful National car accompanied by C. H. Gillette, president of the Hartford Automobile club, and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Stone. They slowly approached the dangerous trolley crossing where bushes obstructed the view. Another automobile directly in front had just crossed the tracks, also moving slowly. Mr. Reid did not see the trolley car until the motorman blew his whistle. He swung the machine sharply to the left, but the front of the trolley car struck the front of the automobile, lifting it in the air and dragging it along. The occupants were thrown out and the automobile was tipped over and completely wrecked. Mrs. Reid sustained a dislocated jaw and was badly cut on the face. Mrs. Stone, who was unconscious some time. Mr. Reid's legs were bruised. The other men were uninjured. The Hartford Courant says: That all were not killed or seriously hurt seems only a short of miraculous. Mr. Reid, who is treasurer of the F. A. Law Machine company, recently became Hartford agent for the National automobile. He drove his car in the recent 60-endurance test, and only missed coming through with perfect score by what was admitted to be hard luck. As it was he had but four points against him.

Four Amherst college students stopped a few hours in Brattleboro Monday morning on their way from White River Junction back to Northampton in canoes. They started from White River Junction Saturday morning after shipping their canoes up by train. They had a thrilling experience soon after the start when one canoe was capsized in shooting the rapids. One of the young men narrowly escaped from drowning, but he was rescued by rivermen in a bateau. The logs were running briskly at the time and the rapid successfully. The party camped a little below Windsor Saturday night and Sunday night they camped near Putney. They expected to reach Northampton Tuesday. The same canoe party came to grief in the French King rapids near Turners Falls. One of the canoes filled and sank but the paddlers reached shore safely. The canoe was recovered later, but all their camp outfit, watches, clothing and money were lost. The other canoe, with one man on board, shot the rapids successfully. The second upset dampened the ardor of the paddlers and they shipped their trip on the train. H. L. Avery and A. L. Atwood, who figured in both the shipwrecks, are members of the same fraternity in Amherst college to which Ned Leonard belonged. The other two members of the party were R. H. Witzle and H. V. Caldwell.
